Plentiful Supply of Fruit on Market

Prices, Too, Are Now Within the Reach of All; Housekeeper Is Happy.

There was a plentiful supply of fruit on the market yesterday. Raspberries, blackberries, peaches, apricots and tomatoes made a for-midable showing all along market row. Yesterday, for the first time, some few Utah apples made their way into the market and were in constant demand. Texas peaches, at 10 cents a pound, three for 25 cents, also found good sale. Both these and the Utah white peaches, which were on the market for the first time yeaterday, are larger and more judey than those of peat seasons. A car of California watermelons was received yesterday and immediately placed on the market. Quotations follow:

James A. Pollock & Co., stock and grain brokers, 6 West Second South as street, make public the following letters of the stock market.

Dick Bros. New York, say: "The market was Irregular and quite reactionary today, in spite of favorable news. The increase in the Union Pacific and Amalgamated dividends was well received, but these developments did not check the selling. Stocks continued heavy until the close, and final prices, with the exception of Amalgamated, were not much above the lowest of the day. The selling was largely professional and at times the buying was much better in character, although not at all persistent."

T. A. McIntyre & Co., New York, say: "The market developed irregularity today and showed some weakness in spots. This was the result of conflicting views among the trading element as to whether or not the price of 139 for Union Pacific dissounts today's announcement placing the stock on a regular 5 per cent dividend basis. It is only fair to say, however, that the market was under bear attack, owing to adverse sentimental influence over sanguine buils who had been expecting some extra dividend distribution selling out. The whole list cased off under this pressure, but it will be noted that the declines were slight. The announcement of the directors' decision in regard to the dividend on Amalgamated railled that stock sharply in the last hour. It was regarded as a compromise an increase in the dividend rates on Boston & Montana or its other constituent companies. General sentiment is very much mixed tonight."

Marshall Spader & Co., New York, say: "Early trading did not suggest the activity in stockholders, especially as there was no increase in the dividend rates on Boston & Montana or its other constituent is very much mixed tonight."

Marshall Spader & Co., New York, say: "Early trading did not suggest the activity of the day in nearly all directions. It is all mounted the day in nearly all directions. It is all mounted that the was not favorably received, the objection being to the qua situation is how much stock has been distributed to the public. On this will depend how much decline can be looked for before any further material advance."

Logan & Bryan, New York, say: "The market closed irregular, with the list lower. The action of the Union Pacific directors in placing the stock on a 5 per cent basis invited profit-taking in Union Pacific and in the railroad list generally, though the declines, excepting in Union Pacific, were not extensive. The reverse happened in Amalgamated. The action of the directors in the above-mentioned corporations speaks volumes for the general business of the country. The action of the market, while slow is perfectly natural, considering the season of the year. We would buy stocks on setbacks." tuation is how much stock has been dis-

Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, July 29—Notwithstanding excellent weather for crops, the wheat market was strong from the start. At the opening the September option was up ½c to ic, at 554,685%c.

Shorts were urgent bidders for September. Commission bearing the Shorts were urgent bidders for September. Commission houses also were in general eager to buy. The cause for the pressing domand was reported confirmation of a damage to spring wheat by black rust. It had been previously known that red rust, a comparatively harmless variety of blight, was prevalent in the wheat fields of the Northwest, but not until today was there any apparent foundation for talk of the dreaded black rust. Many traders had entertained the hope that such affliction of the growing grain would be avoided, and had accordingly been active on the short side of the market.

Advices from Minneapolis and Duluth giving alleged specific details concerning the spread of black rust in the wheat fields of Minnesota and South Dakota caused consternation among these short sellers and started strenuous efforts to cover sales. In addition, a report from Liverpool told of damage to the Russian crop. This increased the anxiety of shorts. Under these influences the price of September advanced to Se. Late in the session the market reacted somewhat on heavy profit-taking, but the close was strong, with September at 874c, a gain of 24c. the market.

Less interest was manifested in the corn market. The market closed steady and unchanged, with September at 54%c. Provisions were weak on fairly active seiling by packers. At the close Septem-ber pork was off 15c, lard was down 1061216c and ribs were 1561716c lower.
